

STATE MAKERS KEPT GUESSING

Long List of Candidates Causes Constant Revisions.

J. C. CUTLER FOR THE SENATE

WOULD VOTE FOR SMOOT IF ELECTED.

THE state makers of the Republican party are almost worried to death. Their horses, figuratively speaking, will not stand hitched when tied. The edict of the bosses about candidates announcing their hopes and ambitions before calling at headquarters, is daily being ignored. Almost as soon as one state is taken up in a legal handwriting, some prominent individual, who cannot be "persuaded" as easily as others, draws his finger across the chronophography by putting up his lightning rod. And then the whole thing has to be done over again, with his name somewhere in the list, while the legal business of the county "goes away back and folds itself up."

And another distressing feature of the state-making business is that men who were counted on to make the stand before the county convention, and who were placed on one of the several scores of slates made, are thereby annoyed by "changing their minds" after they have "talked the matter over" with their friends, and ascertained just what the real situation is.

The latest slate of the county attorney was cracked three times yesterday afternoon, just when the chairman thought he had things pretty well "arranged." One crack was caused by a "sure winner" withdrawing, and the other two by the appearance of two horses which are not in the string tied up behind. When the news reached headquarters it was a blow that almost broke father's looking glass.

Jenkins Will Not Run.

E. E. Jenkins, chief deputy in the United States revenue office, will not be a candidate in the Republican ranks, for the legislature. And for two mighty good reasons. In the first place, should he make the try, he would have to resign his present position, which is for life—according to the service rule—with the string tied to it, that he behaves himself. His nomination would call for his resignation, and then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

Another John C. Cutler. He is really the enemy for the county attorney. He hangs a tale, as the romantics writer would put it. Mr. Cutler is of Cutler Bros. & Co. And furthermore, he is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair. And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

REPUBLICANS MEET TODAY.

County Committee to Get Together at the Knutsford.

The Republicans will hold their first mutual admiration society meeting at the Knutsford hotel at 3 o'clock this afternoon. At that time the big and little politicians of the county will size up the situation, and lay out their plans for the future. Dates will be fixed for the county convention, and for the primaries when delegates to the state convention will be selected. As yet it has not been decided just how many delegates shall attend the county convention, and put through the slate now being fixed by State Chairman Christensen and County Chairman Elchorn. At the meeting today that piece of business will receive undivided attention.

MEETING POSTPONED.

Democrats Won't Gather Until Tuesday Next.

The Democratic county committee will not meet today, as previously announced. The date has been changed to Tuesday afternoon, when it will be held in the office of Judge Hendrickson. Chairman Noble Warrum said yesterday afternoon that inasmuch as so many of the leading Democrats had asked him to change the date, setting it forward a few days, he felt it bound to comply with their wishes in the matter.

Effort to Boost Devine.

Thirty of the supporters of Fire Chief Devine in his efforts to land the nomination for representative in congress met at his office last night and discussed the various methods that would be used to accomplish the nomination. The meeting was purely informal, and the greater part of the time was devoted to a discussion of the ways and means by which the congressional nomination could be secured. In the course of the discussion Chief Devine declared that his name would not be presented in the event that he did not see the support of the Salt Lake county delegation. He further stated that he was confident of that delegation.

Political Notes.

Benjamin Harries has permitted the law to look out that he would like to be sheriff for the next two years. He asks all his good Democratic friends to give him a gentle boost. He comes from Sugar Ward.

Justice McMillin of Murray took time yesterday afternoon to run up to the city and county building long enough to talk politics with the boys. The justice of the peace made the prediction in November his city would go Democratic by a fair majority. While

HOW A PROMISING UNION

WAS NIPPED IN THE BUD

The efforts of a youthful individual to organize a cash boys' union in a certain large dry goods store yesterday were cut short by his summary dismissal when one of the proprietors of the establishment had been apprised of his endeavors. His severance of connections with the store were accompanied by a flood of tears by the other cash boys, who idolized him, and many signs of relief from the women clerks who had been compelled to pay tribute to his short-lived trust.

The young man in question, who had not yet reached his teens, and was large for his size, came to the conclusion that it was beneath the dignity of himself and his youthful associates to perform any services for the women clerks unless they were paid for such each and every errand. He imparted that inspiration to his subordinates, he being the head cash boy, and they agreed to follow his instructions to the letter. Thereafter every woman in the store who had an errand to be run by one of the boys had to pay cents. The matter continued for several days until a protest from the women, until yesterday one of them ran short of change and having met with a point blank refusal from one of the boys to perform a certain duty which was his, she reported the matter to one of the proprietors.

"Who is at the head of the union?" asked the part owner of the establishment.

He feared that the majority of the smaller employees are Republicans, he argued that the vote in the farming precincts would offset it sufficiently to roll up a gratifying majority for the Democrats.

Word comes from Bingham that its citizens will not advocate any candidate for county commissioner from that section of the county. They fear that getting all the notoriety they are entitled to by the candidacy of C. H. Brink for the legislature, would be too hard for the nomination.

All things come to those who wait, and the friends of Amy S. Gabbott of the Farmers' ward found out. After seven long years of labor and exhortations they have finally succeeded in inducing that worthy to announce his candidacy for county commissioner on the Republican ticket. This is the first time in many years that portion of the county has asked for such representation on the county ticket. Only once before has the ward been honored by a candidate, but Mr. Gabbott won't have everything his own way, for "there are others," chief among whom is James Godfrey of Murray. He and the certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

And then there would be the almost certainty of losing the very foot of position which would only be good for two months. The second reason is that his father-in-law, J. C. Cutler, is a Republican. His friends handle the place, should he make the try, to make it too much of a family affair.

FATHER KEENAN

IN FRIEND'S HOME

Distressed Catholic Priest Located in Good Hands.

STAYED AT A DEPOT HOTEL

SENT A MESSAGE TO FRIEND AND CALL ANSWERED.

IN the keeping of intimate acquaintances, the Rev. Father Keenan is safe and sound. The Catholic priest who yesterday has excited the concern of many people since early in the week is comfortably located at the home of a prominent family in the northeastern part of the city.

That Father Keenan has not wandered away and met a tragic fate will be as welcome news to his many friends as is the assurance that he is now in the hands of solicitous friends who will see that his every proper want is gratified.

It was at the 11 o'clock mass in St. Mary's cathedral last Sunday that Father Keenan broke down. His incoherent talk and extravagant remarks bordering upon the sensational during his sermon on the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual. The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

FATHER KEENAN

IN FRIEND'S HOME

Distressed Catholic Priest Located in Good Hands.

STAYED AT A DEPOT HOTEL

SENT A MESSAGE TO FRIEND AND CALL ANSWERED.

IN the keeping of intimate acquaintances, the Rev. Father Keenan is safe and sound. The Catholic priest who yesterday has excited the concern of many people since early in the week is comfortably located at the home of a prominent family in the northeastern part of the city.

That Father Keenan has not wandered away and met a tragic fate will be as welcome news to his many friends as is the assurance that he is now in the hands of solicitous friends who will see that his every proper want is gratified.

It was at the 11 o'clock mass in St. Mary's cathedral last Sunday that Father Keenan broke down. His incoherent talk and extravagant remarks bordering upon the sensational during his sermon on the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation. His references to some recent local scandals were most unusual.

The words of the text, "Let Him Who is Without Sin (cast the First Stone," created a commotion in the church congregation.